MEMORANDUM FOR: Chief, Operations School

SUBJECT : Biweekly Activities Report No. 4
2 - 15 February 1965

A. SIGNIFICANT ITEMS

Nothing to report.

B. OPERATIONS FACULTY

1. Counterintelligence Operations Course No. 56

CI Ops No. 56 was completed on Friday, 12 February, by eleven students. The schedule required numerous changes because of illnesses among scheduled speakers. In one instance a tape made of a speaker's previous presentation was utilized with favorable results. This required the Chief Instructor to turn the recorder off periodically and make cogent comments. [REDACTED] gave an excellent presentation of the [REDACTED] Case.

2. Support Services Course No. 1

The first Support Services Course is in its fourth week at Headquarters. In spite of certain administrative problems, mainly originating from sources outside of our control, the course is proceeding satisfactorily. [REDACTED], Support Officer, NE Division, was present during the week of 8-12 February. Mr. [REDACTED] was of great assistance in keeping speakers on target as well as contributing short practical exercises based on his previous field experience. Plans have been made to take the class to the [REDACTED] on 17 and 18 February for presentations by the Office of Security. [REDACTED] and several other DDP Support Officers are planning to be present at [REDACTED] for some informal

4. Information Reports Familiarization Tutorial

We have suddenly been deluged with a number of requests for IRF tutorials. After screening all of the applications, we have told Division Training Officers that the qualifications of several students require them to take the IRRR rather than the IRF. In spite of the elimination of some of the applicants, [REDACTED] gave an IRF tutorial to six students during the week 8-12 February and is giving another tutorial to four students during the week 15-19 February.

5. Project USEFUL

The third Abridged Project USEFUL was presented in 1A-07, Headquarters, on 9 and 10 February to 48 officers representing the Joint Staff and Defense Intelligence Agency. One Admiral and one Brigadier General were included. [REDACTED], Chief Instructor, encountered substantial difficulty in scheduling speakers because of illness and the critical international situation. In spite of this, the briefing seemed to go well, with the Admiral making an unsolicited speech to the DDCI expressing the gratitude of his classmates and himself for the opportunity to attend the briefing. The DDS introduced the course and the DDCI made the closing remarks.
